DOCTORS VISIT TWO HOSPITALS

Clinic at Queen's and Luncheon at Fort Shafter --- Last Day's Program.

According to the program the Hawaiian Territorial Medical Society, in a body, attended a clinic at the Queen's Hospital yesterday morning. It was both medical and surgical, being conducted by Doctors Hoffmann and Waterhouse.

From the hospital the medics went to the corner of Beretania avenue and Punchbowl street, where a special car was in waiting to carry them to Fort Shafter at Kahala. There were eighteen or twenty in the party, who, as the guests of Dr. Blanchard, U. S. A., enjoyed a fine luncheon on arrival out. Dr. Blanchard showed them through the Fort hospital. They were highly pleased with its modern plan and equipment, as well as its admirable location.

Today is the third and last day of the Society's annual meeting, the sessions being held at the University Club. Three more papers will be presented. Then the Society's business will be transacted, the event to conclude with a banquet at 8 p. m. The theses with their authors for this afternoon are as follows:

"A Discussion on Vaccine Therapy," Dr. W. Brinckerhoff.
"Anglo-neurotic Oedema," Dr. J. T. McDonald.
"A Report on Some Cases of Retinal Disease," Dr. W. G. Rogers.

"What does your father do to earn his living?" asked a New York principal of a pupil who was being admitted. "Please, ma'am, he doesn't live with us; mamma supports me." "Well, then, how does your mother earn her living?" "She gets paid for staying away from papa," replied the child, artlessly.—Harper's Weekly.

Morris Sellers Largey, the young Montana millionaire who is devoting himself to the theatrical business, said at a dinner, apropos of his new theater in New York. "I think that theatricals offer a fine field for shrewd investors. They are very steady. They are not as the slave trade was during the Civil War. Perhaps you have heard of the slave who wanted to buy his freedom. This was before the war, and, since he was a very good slave, his master would not sell him to himself at any price. But as the war approached its end the master, not unnaturally, changed his mind. He sent for the slave one morning and asked him if he was still of the same mind about purchasing himself. The slave scratched his head, looked at the ground, and faltered: 'Well, Marse Henry, Ah did want to buy mahself, but Ah been a-studyin' 'erbout it right mahbly lately, sah, an' Ah done come to de 'clulsion dat in dese times nigh-gah prop'y am too onsarntin, sah, to put any money in.'"
